Dear Rob Moore (GOOD EARTH FEEDS),

Here at Cavalli Stud we do breeding, training and showing. We work with stallions, mares, weanlings, yearlings and young stock.

We have been using Nutrifen for nearly three years. Our horses all show increased vitality and their coats look wonderful. I have often been asked at shows what I use on my horses' coats to achieve such a dappling shine, but all we do is groom them normally. The improved hair growth of their mane and tail has been particularly impressive. I believe that Nutrifen has improved healing response and recovery time. Hoof conditions improved much quicker than expected.

This season we had a 100% success rate with all 15 of our yearlings. Yearlings usually pick up running noses and general respiratory problems in the area. Since using Nutrifen they recover very quickly without conventional medical intervention. We have saved money on veterinary costs where we would normally have to treat these problems. We recently took our horses to the Bloemfontein Show, the biggest outdoor Saddlebred show in the world. Many horses at the event came down with illness, yet none of our horses showed any signs of sickness or fever. I can only attribute this to the immune strengthening properties of Nutrifen.

We recently lost one of our horses to a digestive disorder. It was sadly the only horse on the stud farm that we did not provide Nutrifen. In hindsight, I believe that the improved digestibility properties of Nutrifen could have effectively treated the condition and prevented the fatal outcome.

Thank you for introducing us to this remarkable product. Nutrifen will always remain central to the feeding program of Cavalli Stud.

Regards,

Elra Tonkin
